REQUIRED OR RECOMMENDED TEXTBOOKS: Course materials will be available in the Course Reserves section of the class and posted in each module.

COURSE DESCRIPTION: The role of agency leadership and its impact on the continuing professionalization of the fire and emergency services. This course examines traditional and evolving definitions, practices and skills in leadership behavior, including group discussions of ethics, teamwork, organizational behavior, and leadership.

PREREQUISITE KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS: None

HOW THIS COURSE RELATES TO THE STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES IN THE FIRE AND EMERGENCY SERVICES MANAGEMENT PROGRAM: By the end of this course, students will:

1. Identify and evaluate organizational problems associated with fire and emergency services (SLO1).
2. Demonstrate effective leadership behavior and skills in fire and emergency services (SLO4).
3. Demonstrate strong verbal and written communications skills for leadership in fire and emergency services (SLO6).

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS: The course is designed for individual and group interactivity. The course will have multiple formats: individual learning, group learning projects, and discussion. The course design is centered around six focus areas and their respective assignments. Each module will require readings and group online discussions assignments that will help the student learn the information. The course also includes a final group project and individual writing assignment.

TEACHING PHILOSOPHY: Students should demonstrate a working knowledge of the subject. An orientation video for use of library resources will provide you with valuable information for completing your assignments. You need to be creative when you complete your assignments but maintain a professional appearance of your work. Your work needs to be complete and in such a manner that someone can pick up your document and understand what you are trying to convey. And most importantly, your work needs to be supported with research and cited properly in APA format. A good resource regarding APA format is the University of Purdue Online Writing Lab, https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research_and_citation/apa_style/apa_formatting_and_style_guide/general_format.html.
